THE LIBERTY HOTEL Boston, Mass. The 1851 Charles Street Jail at the foot of Beacon Hill—overlooking the Charles River—transformed into contemporary hotel. Walk catwalks in central atrium to your room: floor-to-ceiling windows, sepia artwork, eco-friendly soap dispensers. Historical gallery. Alibi bar. Cross a footbridge and you're on Charles River Esplanade. 298 room from $295; www.libertyhotel.com.

HOTEL 1000 Seattle, Wash. High-tech hotel raises Emerald City's geek quotient to new high. Multitasking VoIP phones, infrared occupancy sensors, tubs that fill from the ceiling, a virtual golf driving range. Up-to-the-nanosecond Pacific Rim styling to match: rich cherrywood, leather-wrapped walls. Food served is authentic Northwest, with fresh fish and produce trotted up from Pike Place Market four blocks away. 120 rooms; from $225; www.hotel1000seattle.com.
